Hi there,

Just wanted to update you all this morning. Elliott would like to review how we addressed his most recent comments, which he believes he can do in 15 minutes. Claudia is working on removing his and Rick's original comments from the current version, leaving only Elliott's recent comments. Once she has done so, we will send the document over to Elliott, which should happen later this morning. We are close to finishing up the updates to the cost analysis as well. So, once we have Elliott's ok, we will move the document to Janet. We have been asked to submit to Janet a version with RLSO of how we addressed her original comments from late January. We will also be submitting a clean current version, since the document has changed so much since January. Provided we hear back from Elliott quickly and he is ok with how we addressed his comments, I would think we would be sending this to Janet either later today or tomorrow morning. Let me know if you have any questions.

Thanks,

Dee
